

Nishi-Nippon Railroad Co., Ltd. purchases local logistics company in Australia to expand its global network

To strengthen our global logistics network, Nishi-Nippon Railroad Co., Ltd. Will acquire a 100% shareholding of a highly successful local Australian logistics company. After acquisition, the company name will be changed to NNR Global Logistics Australia Pty Ltd, which is our new 21st overseas subsidiary among the NNR group.

NNR Global Logistics Australia Pty Ltd will be a wholly-owned subsidiary of Nishi-Nippon Railroad Co., Ltd. and will begin operations as “NNR Australia” from 1st March, 2016. In the company’s ‘Region 5’ [Asia-Oceania], this is the 9th NNR subsidiary.

We have been investigating the market potential and opportunities through our previously established liaison office in Sydney and are confident that continuous growth in global logistics within Oceania regions along with the developments of JAEPA (Japan Australia Economic Partnership Agreement) and TPP (Trans-Pacific Partnership) can be expected in the Australian market.

Our goal is to provide a high quality service to all customers by increasing the volume of our business and expansion of our network.

Details of NNR Global Logistics Australia:

Company name:	NNR Global Logistics Australia Pty Ltd
Head Quarters:	Sydney, Australia
Start operating day:	1 st March, 2016 (Plan)
Business description:	Freight forwarding (Airfreight & Ocean freight) and Customs brokerage
Shareholder composition:	100% by Nishi-Nippon Railroad Co., Ltd.
Sales office:	Sydney and Melbourne
Number of employees:	14 (Plan)